

Power, Freedom, Compassion: Transformations for a Better World

CONTENTS

1. Introduction

Problems and Themes
Outline of the Argument

2. Starting Points: Balancing Pessimism and Optimism

Pessimism: How Can This Sort Of Thing Be Going On?
Grounds For Hope

3. Marxism and Buddhism: Injustice; Reality

Why Marxism?
Why Buddhism?
Parallels: Reality, Individualism
Pause: 'Reality'?
More Parallels: Suffering

4. Transforming Institutions

A 'Classless' Society
Improvisation: Linking Specific Events to General Principles
Disguising Institutions, Transforming Knowledge
Critique: Transforming People?

5. Transforming Awareness

Meditation
Meditation as 'Pure Awareness'
Meditation as 'Mindfulness'
Meditation as the Cultivation of Compassion
Pause: 'The Transcendental' and 'The Unconscious'
Developmental Companionship, Educative Institutions

6. Transforming Creativity

Hobbies, Craftwork
The Arts
Sport

7. Transforming Democracy

'Free Electoral Choice' and the Corruption of Political Discourse
Political Parties and Bureaucracy: The Denial of 'Representation'
The Democratic Limitations of a 'Free Market Economy'
'Freedom of Expression' and Corporate Domination of the Public Media
Democracy, Commodities and Illusions:
Commodities
Illusion and Investigation

8. Conclusion: Transforming Education

Education or 'Meritocracy'
A Curriculum for Critique, Awareness and Compassion
Beyond Schooling: Educative Institutions

Index